APPEARANCE

Pasta with a shape that recalls the olive leaves, in tribute of this traditional tree of Apulia; the surface is rough and porous

TASTE

Excellent cooking resistance

PRODUCER

I Contadini - Ugento (LE) - Apulia

OUR SELECTION

We selected the pasta by I Contadini because it comes from a short production chain rich in identity: the durum wheat is cultivated in the fields of the Trentin brothers with a careful approach to the environment, the cereal and the tradition; the wheat is milled in a mill in Salento and the production takes place in a local laboratory where most of the operations are performed manually. A pasta that really speaks the Apulian language!

CURIOSITY

The wheat is milled just before going into production in order to preserve all its nutritional and organoleptic characteristics. In the pasta laboratory all the operations are performed manually: the product is taken at the exit from the dies and dried at a low temperature for more than 48 hours. Packaging is also done by hand
