OUR SELECTION

The products Casa Marrazzo have a dripping of more than 70%: each jar has a product content (fruit) equal to 70% of the net weight, while the juice or government liquid (water and salt) only 30% or even less in some products

CURIOSITY

The plant grows in height attached to the wooden poles so that the fruit does not touch the ground and the vegetation protects it from the direct sun; the mild climate and the watery soil give the San Marzano a delicate texture, and an unmistakable sweetness
