

POMODORO PELATO NAPOLI

CODE	96352
COUNTRY OF ORIGIN	Italy, Campania
WEIGHT	Net weight: 2550 g (Drained weight: 1650 g)

A peeled tomato of Italian origin, grown in the same area of San Marzano

DESCRIPTION

Naples tomato and tomato juice; the tomatoes, coming from crops controlled by seed at harvest, are selected by expert hands, peeled by hand and packaged; processed a few hours after harvest, keep intact all the properties and scents of the raw material matured in the sun

APPEARANCE

The shape is oval and elongated, the pulp turgid and slightly watery

TASTE

Sweet and aromatic

PRODUCER

Casa Marrazzo - Pagani (SA)

OUR SELECTION

The Marrazzo family are 'artisans of good': a family-run artisanal business that aims to preserve and innovate the ancient art of preserves, inextricably linked to the culture of the territory. We are in the Agro Sarnese Nocerino, the valley that stretches from Vesuvius to the Gulf of Naples, between the sea and the Lattari mountains: the land of San Marzano. It is here that the Marrazzo family produces various lines of preserves inspired by the most authentic Southern tradition, with respect for the environment, using clean energy, recycling water and packaging, and employing electric vehicles for sourcing local raw materials and for the people who work in their home

CURIOSITY

The tomatoes, sourced from controlled cultivation from seed to harvest, are selected by skilled hands, hand-peeled, and packaged. Processed within a few hours of harvest, they retain all the properties and aromas of the sun-ripened raw material

SUGGESTIONS

Designed for those looking for a hand-peeled tomato of Italian origin, grown in the same area of San Marzano; unlike San Marzano, the peeled Naples is added tomato sauce