DESCRIPTION

Blue cheese produced with pasteurized cow's milk, smoked and flavored with black tea Lapsang Souchong, in small portion in skin pack

APPEARANCE

The rind is thin and brown due to the smoking, covered of black tea; the paste is white with grey-blue veinings

TASTE

Sweet, with predominant smoked notes which are well balanced by hints of mould and cellar; the Lapsang Souchong tea gives roundedness and elegance

MATURING

at least 2 months

PRODUCER

Latteria Moro Sergio - Oderzo (TV) - Veneto

OUR SELECTION

Moro offers these innovative products with packaging that respects the cheese and at the same time highlights its characteristics, in line with the growing importance of service in terms of packaging, sizes and formats

CURIOSITY

Sergio had the idea to create an affiné cheese with tea after he attended the seminar 'Tea and Cheeses' that we organised during our event Saponi 2014, with Martin and Betty from Fromagerie L'Amuse. Moreover, the packaging of the skin packs also serves as a sales display
